districts. After an hour or more in discussing the merits of the excellent Konn coffee, Japan tea and other delicacies which covered the festive boards, short five-minute addresses were made by several native and foreign speakers, interspersed with singing. Among the mire noteworthy addresses were those of Mesers. Henry Waterhouse and F. W. Damon, both of which were warmly applianced. The latter introduced, Chinese colorten, and told a most pathetic story of the conversion of the latter. This was followed by the singing of a hyun in Chinese by Mrs. Damon, in the chorus of which the antienne joined, in four languages, Chinese, Hawnian, English and Gilbert Island. Mr. Bingham introduced a Gilbert Island. And Shanker in their own distect. These locations, added to the interest of the occasion, shows how the good influences of this annual gathering is extending. Certainly no other occasion offers so favorable opportunity to foreigners for judging of the improvement made by the more educated Hawailans; and the three hours apent at the "tea' party" of Thursday evening were very enjoyably passed by all who were so fortunite as to be present.
